DETAILED ACTION

Remarks filed on July 30, 2007 have been acknowledged. Claims 1-6 are pending.

Response to Amendment

Rejection of Claims 1-4 as being provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting unpatentable over claims 1-4 of copending Application No. 10/803641 has been maintained in light of applicants arguments.

Rejection of Claims 1-6 as being anticipated by Clark (US 4728591) has been withdrawn in light of applicants' arguments.

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Art Unit: 1743

2. Claims 1-4 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-4 of copending Application No. 10/803641. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because copending application recites an "electrode" whereas the instant application recites a "substrate". It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill that an electrode is first a substrate. Therefore the instant claims are completely encompassed by those of 10/803641.

3. This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

1. Claims 1-2 and 4-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Wen (US 6241333).

Wen teaches a jet printing assembly. The assembly comprises a substrate (Silicon in Figure1) having at least a first surface, a plurality for cells (Si_3N_4 in Figure 1) disposed in a predetermined feature pattern on the at least first surface and means for changing the pressure of at least a first fluid disposed within the plurality of cells in order to cause a selected liquid to change the degree of penetration of the feature pattern (different voltages applied and changing the temperature). Wen further teaches the plurality of cells (Si_3N_4 in Figure 1) each have at least a first dimension less than one millimeter. (See Figure 1) (See Col. 1, Lines 19-47)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wen.

Art Unit: 1743

Refer above for the teachings of Wen.

Wen fails to teach the plurality of cells each have at least a first dimension less than one micron.

The only difference between the prior art and the claimed invention is the dimension of the cells. Changes in size and shape are commonly known in the art. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the assembly of Wen with a plurality of cells each having at least a first dimension less than one micron to achieve the predictable result of obtaining a smaller sample size and thus making the process more efficient.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-6 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. Refer above.
